“Creating a Powerful Resume – Inside Tips from a PhD Hiring Manager”

What does a hiring manager look for in a resume? What is the best way to communicate technical and transferable skills to a mixed audience? A good resume tells an interesting story that is customized to the employer’s needs. The more intriguing the resume, the more likely an employer will schedule an interview and make a job offer. The key is to construct an impactful, concise (no longer than two pages), employer-relevant story that demonstrates that you are a perfect fit for the job. This workshop provides tips and best practices for creating an effective resume that will entice employers.
