Research Data Management
Cloud Solution

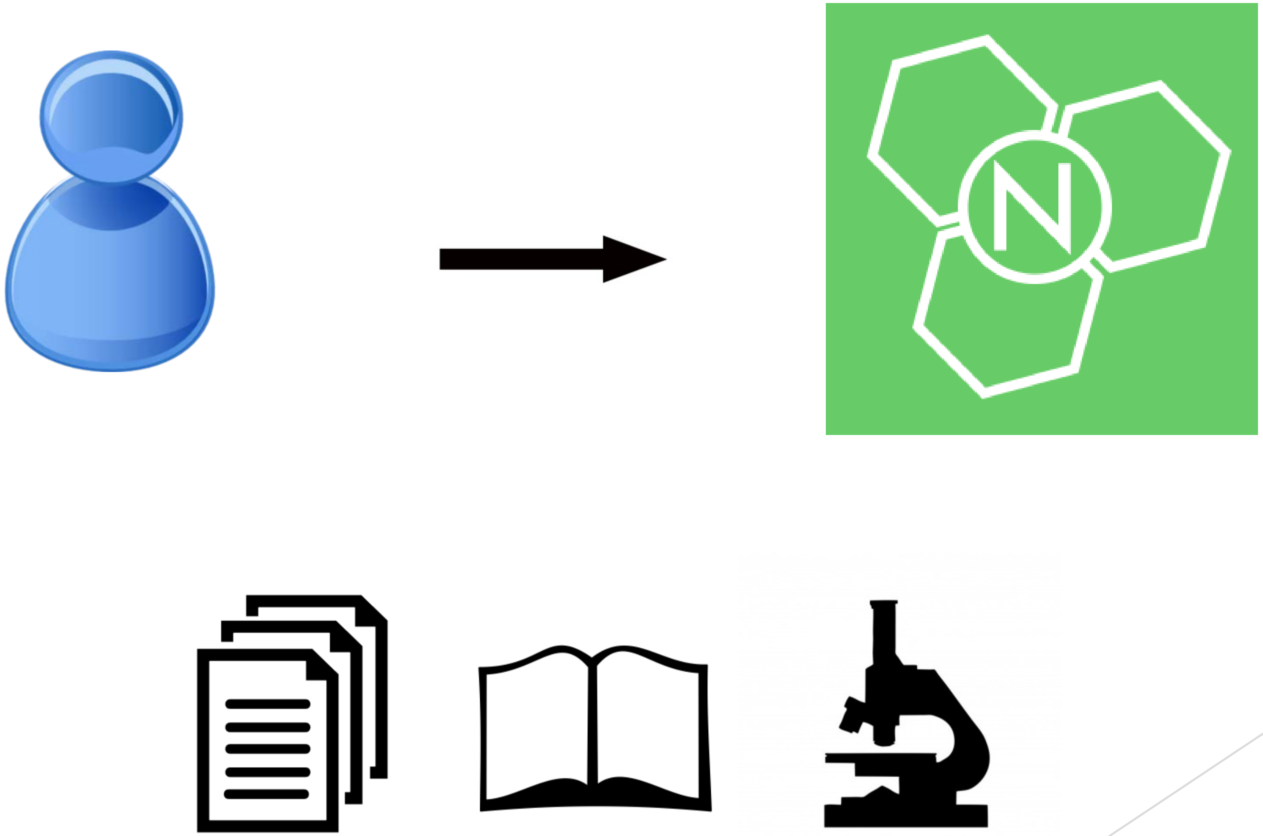
Nexus: Overview

- Web-Based Solution

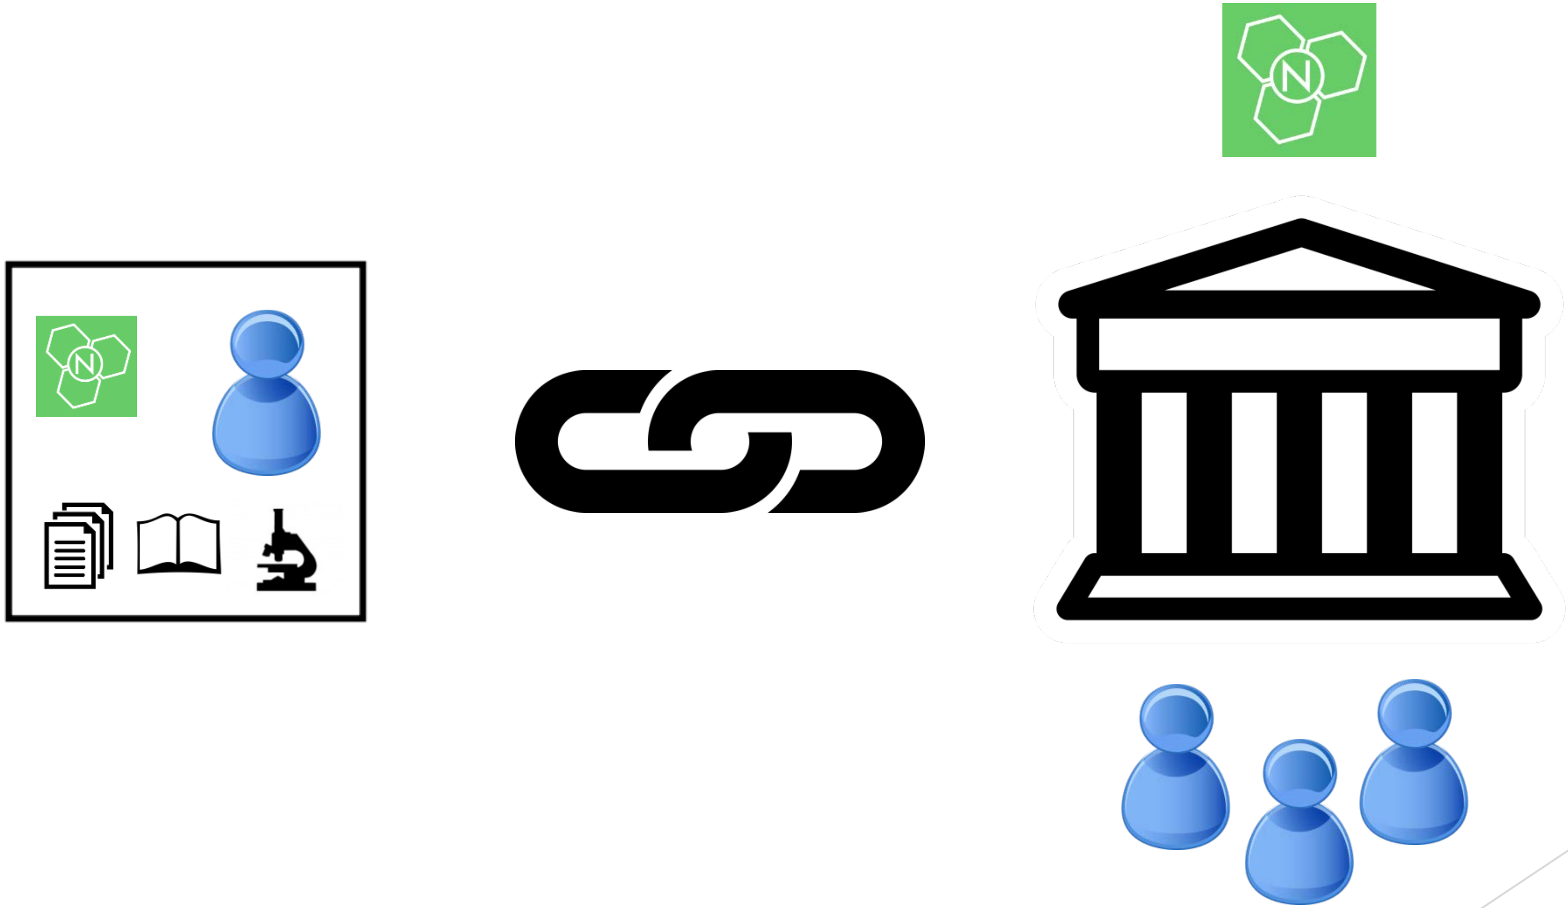
  Administrative accounts that allow the online management of:
    - Research Members
    - Publications
    - Research Projects/Grants
  - Centralized data allows for powerful reporting tools

  - Cloud-based
    - Hosted by Amazon Web Services – Elastic Beanstalk (EB2)
      - Application Accessibility
      - Backups, Secured and Encrypted Data
        - SOC2 and SOC3 Compliant
      - Prepared for growth of application features and data

Nexus Overview



Nexus Overview



Nexus Features

- Research Member Manager (RMM)
  - Basic Information, Position History, Research Program Affiliation
- My Library (Publication Management)
  - Imports directly from PubMed
  - Updates publication data nightly (reference counts, PMCID assignment)
  - Linked Authorships
  - Publication Authors use integrated module to allow
    - Selection of Peer/Non-Peer Review
    - Shared Resources allocation to research
  - Automatic Intra/Inter/Both designation
- EDGE (Biosketch generator)
  - Non-document based item collection renders in various formats including the NIH Biosketch (CV's coming)
  - Store multiple versions tailored to specific research focus
  - Linked publications to Personal Statements and Contributions to Science updated automatically from nightly feed

WELCOME TO CMAPS

CMAPS is a powerful tool that allows Samuel Oschin Comprehensive Cancer Institute (SOCCI) Administration to manage SOCCI membership, publications, programs, projects, and Cancer Center Support Grant (CCSG) summary reporting.

CMAPS also provides SOCCI members with the ability to view and update their publications and membership details.

Membership in the SOCCI is available to Cedars-Sinai Medical Center faculty and Medical Staff who have an interest in cancer, cancer-related research, clinical trials, and training.

Would like to collaborate with other Cancer Centers

- Have input for design and output.
- We all do pretty much the same reports
- New system will have business matrix reports
- With total business analytics
- Compare your numbers month by month
- Hosted in cloud
